

About me

Hi, I'm Tom de Jongh, a Canberra based photographer who loves nothing more than to work with clients and provide them with a lasting memory of their special event.

I have been serious about photography for over 30 years, when I used to enjoy the process of developing and printing in my own darkroom. Since those early days I have embraced digital photography and am just as enthusiastic in selecting, editing, and retouching images to present the best images I can.

The range of events I capture are broad, but I tend to specialise in events with movement.

Sports I have photographed include orienteering, running, triathlon, road cycling, mountain biking, rugby union, rugby league, and athletics.

I have also recently photographed formal gardens, birthday celebrations, corporate functions, and weddings.

I understand that while the photos are a good memory of the occasion, they are not the main reason people are in attendance. I therefore attempt to take candid photos, and let people enjoy the occasion without worrying about the photographer.

I carefully select and edit photos to show people at their best and to highlight the enjoyment everyone is having in attending the event or function.

As well as my own photography I also sub contract for a number of other companies, including:

Marathon Photos
Epsom Road Studios
SuperSport Images
Event Photography
